

District of Columbia Courts

Come live, work, and play in our nation's capital, Washington, DC!

Washington, DC has so many things going for it. Whether you're a young professional right out of court reporting school or have a family and children, there's something for everyone. Excellent schools, professional sports teams, urban or suburban living, world-class restaurants, and historical monuments make living in Washington, DC a great choice for anyone!

In fact, the Court Reporting Division of DC Superior Court is looking for skilled Official Court Reporters to join our staff. The benefits are numerous, and include:

1. Competitive Salary on the Federal Pay Scale - $78,817-$120,658 per year (not including transcripts) depending on qualifications and experience
2. Federal Benefits
3. Robust Federal Retirement Plan
4. Paid Federal Holidays and 1 Additional DC Holiday

And as if that weren't enough, the Court Reporting Division has an Administrative Office that will process your transcript orders from start to finish! Don't let this pass you by!

Apply now at <https://www.usajobs.gov/job/679158400>

For more information, please contact Sharon Ruiz, Acting Deputy Director of the Court Reporting Division, at sharon.ruiz@dccsystem.gov.